Allen's Diamond 4 Ranch

Lander, Wyoming

Women's Wellness
Wilderness Pack Trip

Allen's Diamond 4 Ranch is located in the spectacular Wind River Mountain Range within the Shoshone National Forest and is Wyoming's highest wilderness guest ranch.

The Wilderness Pack Trip is the "heart" of the Women's Wellness Retreats created and led by Jessie Allen, the owner/operator of the Diamond 4 Ranch. Jessie first started leading these retreats in 2014, after spending her lifetime working on the ranch. She created the Women's Wellness Trips as a way to welcome women from all stages of life to be immersed in the wilderness, focusing on horsemanship, outdoor skills, health & wellness, and building community.

Arrive at the ranch for a night in the cabins with dinner and breakfast in the lodge. The next morning, pack up the horses and ride about five hours into the wilderness to camp next to a mountain river with a gorgeous views and vistas while your horse grazes in the meadow nearby your tent. Practice yoga each morning alongside the horses, eat breakfast around the campfire, then ride to a myriad of lakes and scenic vistas where you can fly-fish, meditate, or just relax.
