Jewish Family Service Appoints Linda Foster as President and CEO

THE JEWISH FAMILY SERVICE Board Search Committee was unanimous in its choice of Linda Foster to head the organization. Foster comes from the Chicago area, where she served as head of school at Solomon Schechter Day School for the past nine years. Her impressive background includes leadership in both nonprofit and for-profit organizations as well as a variety of industries. She has led capital campaigns, endowment growth and stewardship efforts. Foster states, "JFS's mission and core values bring together so much of what is important to me, both personally and professionally. I look forward to meeting JFS's supporters, volunteers, and partners to build and strengthen relationships and the agency's impact in the greater Denver community." jewishfamilyservice.org

CAYMAN AIRWAYS Announces Direct Flights From Denver

CAYMAN AIRWAYS NEW SERVICE on a Boeing 737 Max-8 aircraft direct from Denver to the Cayman Islands begins March 2 on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Fabian Whorms, president/CEO of Cayman Airways says the new Denver nonstop service to Cayman will reduce travel time to less than five hours with industry-leading comfort and legroom. Introductory round-trip fares start at $396 plus tax. An added bonus comes from the Five-Star Ritz-Carlton Grand Cayman—a special nightly rate of $439 per room per night valid through Oct. 31 that includes a complimentary fourth night. caymanairways.com, ritzcarlton.com
